Content profiling

- The task: Given a large set of heterogenous texts and a piece of paper. Now, write down whatever information on that paper that gives another person maximum insight into the content of these texts.

- What kind of information would you put down on that paper?